DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 4/21/04 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US Application No.09/339,190, now US Patent No.6,757,476, has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-42 are allowable over the prior art of record.

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claim 1, the invention relates to recording and/or reproducing information, for effectively processing a still picture, including a recording medium for storing virtual deletion information for preventing file extent information from excessively increasing when some of a data file is deleted by a user's request, and recording and/or reproducing method and apparatus thereof.

The closest references Yamauchi et al (US 6,047,103) disclose a transmitting device capable of performing copyright protection processing, when digital data retrieved from the information recording medium is AV data, which includes an interface section for receiving information specifying the digital data to be output and the data receiving device and for outputting the digital data via the digital interface, and Bloom et al (US 6,332,194) teach preventing unlawful copying of audio, video, and other media that can be digitized, including a method for inserting a watermark into digital data.

However, Yamauchi et al and Bloom et al fail to explicitly disclose an apparatus for recording and/or reproducing audio and/or video data on a recordable and/or rewriteable recording medium, where the apparatus further comprises wherein the pickup records a plurality of additional audio parts, on a third region of the recording medium, to be added to the still pictures, with the still picture group information further including information for connectivity between the still pictures in the first region and the additional audio parts in the third region, for reproduction of still pictures and/or corresponding additional audio parts by the apparatus for recording and/or reproducing audio and/or video data.

Regarding claim 31, the invention relates to recording and/or reproducing information, for effectively processing a still picture, including a recording medium for storing virtual deletion information for preventing file extent information from excessively increasing when some of a data file is deleted by a user's request, and recording and/or reproducing method and apparatus thereof.

However, Yamauchi et al and Bloom et al fail to explicitly disclose an apparatus for recording and/or reproducing audio and/or video data on a recordable and/or rewriteable recording medium, where the apparatus further comprises a controller to control the pickup to record and/or read the one still picture and one virtual deletion information, and to control the pickup to record and/or read at least one additional audio part, on the recording medium, added to the at least one still picture, and connective information, on the recording medium, indicative of connectivity between the still pictures and the additional audio parts, for reproduction of still pictures and/or corresponding additional audio parts.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yamauchi et al (US 6,047,103) teach an information recording medium for recording an information signal representing at least one of program data, audio information, and video information, data transmitting device/method for retrieving the information signal from the information recording medium.

Yamauchi et al (US 6,088,507) teach a multimedia optical disc which stores multimedia data, and an apparatus and a method for reproducing the multimedia optical disc.

Sawabe et al (US 6,148,138) teach an information record medium such as an optical disk of a high recording density type, which is capable of recording information such as video information, audio information and the like at a high density, and which is represented by a DVD (Digital Video or Versatile Disk).

Moriyama et al (US 4,703,369) teach a method for recording and reproducing a video format signal including audio frames having data such as time-axis-compressed audio data and video frames containing video information.
